

- ▶ JOHAN VAN BENTHEM, Computation as Social Agency: What and How?.
Amsterdam and Stanford Universities.
E-mail: J.vanBenthem@uva.nl.

Starting from a brief history of different models for computation, we will explore the view of computation as social interaction. We will discuss some new general topics that emerge in this perspective, including systematic 'gamification' of existing algorithms, different notions of information that may be involved, and perhaps even the computing power of conversation.